MEET OUR LACTATION CONSULTANTS

AGNES & RILLA

Agnes Schaffer worked as a Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU) RN for over 20 years before becoming a Lactation Consultant. She has extensive lactation experience from helping families of premature and sick babies. She would help patients establish and protect their breastmilk supply in the NICU and help with transitioning from bottle to breast.

"Breastfeeding, although natural, is not always easy and immediate. My purpose is to assist families in breastfeeding so that they can define and achieve their own personal lactation goals."

Rilla Daza has been a nurse for 27 years, she received her Bachelors of Science in Nursing from the University of Illinois and has been a Certified Lactation Consultant for the last 5 years. She has been with Southern Hills since 2010. She loves her role as a Lactation Consultant along with Agnes. Her plan is to stay at Southern Hills Hospital until she retires because she loves working at Southern Hills with new families. She says her job is very rewarding and she enjoys helping mothers learn how to breastfeed their newborns.
